SUN BEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

Our new ice skating rink will be ready for the first official invasion of the steel-runner artists in a little more than a week, marking a step in the development of winter sports for this region that is unexcelled and again proving that Truckee, the grandfather of winter resorts in California, is still maintaining its lead. While the ice palace, as originally planned, is still far from completion, the present project, merely providing a good open-air rink, is a step in the right direction and the sponsors and supporters of the project have earned any thanks which might be extended. The cooperation of the businessmen and women, the efforts of the Truckee Chamber of Commerce committees and the work of individuals has brought results and even in its present stage the ice palace is something of which to be proud, so let's all support it.

It is extremely difficult in the newspaper business to please everyone. In the recording of stories, even facts, let alone opinions, are very often misconstrued or misinterpreted by the reader and it is nothing strange if the paper itself errs. But we are doing our best and it is not our intention to hurt or ridicule anyone unjustly through the columns of this paper. To say the least that would be unsportsmanlike and we believe unfair. We want you to feel as we feel, that the Sierra Sun is a community newspaper, devoted to the interests and welfare of Truckee, Lake Tahoe and the other neighboring communities. Your suggestions and constructive criticisms of the paper are always welcome. To serve you with the kind of a newspeper you want is our principal aim.

Have you noticed how very nice and clean the sidewalks and streets are since we first started campaigning in this column for a cleanup? You have not, and neither has anyone else. Oh, well, it will soon be snowing and the papers, weeds and other debris will be buried until spring. But, mark you, in the spring we are going to renew our efforts to have this badly needed service rendered. The alleys, too, in case you don't already know it, are in a mess.

Despite the nearness of winter, local building operations continue to boom. Down Commercial row we noticed Miss Rossarini has a crew of carpenters busily engaged in the remodeling of the interior of her store, while Dave Cabona and his workmen are rushing the new furniture store to completion. It is sure a sign of the times and we are glad to see Truckee keeping pace.

The Camp Fire Girls are reorganizing here and that's an important bit of news. This nation-wide group is well worthy of support and goes a long way in providing the right kind of entertainment and industry for the girls. Now if we just had something of a similar nature for the boys we would be all fixed.

Incidentally, when and how are we going to get that branch of the county library in Truckee

Officers Elected Here After Truckmen Meet to Form Program

IN CAPITAL CHAPTER

Smith, Mattos Chosen to be Representatives for Truckee Unit

It is planned to hold another meeting this month to vote on new members and complete the organization. A scale of wages and truck and car hire was established at the meeting last Thursday.

NEW RADIO STATION WILL BE USED BY FORESTRY DIVISION

Not only will the broadcasting station installed by the Nevada county squad of the highway patrol at Hills Flat be a help in apprehending violators of traffic laws and criminals but will also be used to protect the Tahoe forest resources, according to DeWitt Nelson, supervisor of this forest district.

Captain Joe Blake, in charge of the station has volunteered to transmit messages on government business and authority for Nelson to install the necessary receiving set in his official car, has been received

Tests made by the two men have shown that the broadcasting station will reach any point in the Tahoe National forest.

Although the han on smoking and the necessity of carrying an axe and shovel into the forest during the winter months has been removed, the supervisor cautions persons to be careful at all times even though the restrictions are necessary only during the period of the high fire hazard.

Truckee Coach Used in Parade As Bridge Opens

Few who witness the parade marking the opening of the new San Francisco - Oakland Bay bridge will know that Truckee has an unofficial entry in the gala affair. But such is the case.

The old Truckee- Sierraville stage coach, owned by James McIver, Jr. has been rented to the Auburn Chamber of Commerce and entered as a trophy from that center.

The coach, which saw much active service on the pioneer route, is more than half a century old, but is in excellent repair and valued highly by its owner.

PRESIDENT WILL BE INAUGURATED UNDER NEW LAW

Held Shortest Term of any President as Result Of New Law

President Roosevelt will be the first to be inaugurated on January 20, as the Norris "lame duck" amendment, abolishing the short-term session of congress, which formerly convened in December and ended March 4, will go into effect.

Washington is making preparation for its first midwinter inaugural ceremonies as congress will meet on January 5 and on January 6 the formal vote of the electoral college will be canvassed.

The electors of the President will meet in the 48 states at places designated by the state legislature on December 14 in order to cast their votes for the chief executive for the new four-year term.

The vote will be unanimous for President Roosevelt, aside from the few in Maine and Vermont, which are pledged to Governor Landon.

The electors action on December 14 is certified to the governors of the resepective states and in turn the state heads have the vote transmitted to the secretary of state at Washington, who sends them to congress for the official counting which takes place on January 6.

Due to the changes, the President has had the shortest term in office of any of the past chief executives of the United States who have not been reelected or died in office.

MARKET LOOTED BY THIEVES ON LAST SUNDAY

Bacons, Ham Stolen Here as Truckee Meat Market Is Looted

Believe Thief Secreted Self Until Doors Locked For Night

Thieves sometime late Saturday night or early Sunday morning looted the Truckee Meat Market on Commercial row and after completely ransacking the establishment left with three sides of bacon and one large ham. No clues were left which might lead to the arrest of the culprits.

Deputy Sheriff Tom Dolley, who was called to make the investigation, said that he believed the thief or thieves secreted themselves inside the store or in the basement and then after the doors were locked for the night, did the plundering.

This belief was strengthened by the fact that locks on doors and windows had not been molested. The robber made his exit through the door in the rear which he easily unbarred from within.

Evidence revealed that the looter spent some time ransacking desks, cash register and places where cash might have been concealed.

The robbery was the first reported here for several months, the close vigil of the officers making a robbery difficult.

Tahoe Concern In Reorgauization As Future Plan Made

Matt Green Selected For President of Tahoe Tavern Group

Matt Green has been named president of the new Lake Tahoe Development Company, a corporation at the reorganization of bondholders evolving from the defunct Tahoe Tavern Company. Shares of stock in $100 denominations to the value of the bonds now held will be received by the bondholders.

Other officers named included Richard Guggenheim, vice president; John G. Hatfield, secretary-treasurer and Samuel Fleisher and F. A. Smith, directors. Green was also chosen to act as business manager of the association.

Word has been received that Walter Rounsevel, who also operates a winter resort in Arizona, has an option to buy the tavern before the close of a three-year lease which he holds until October 1, next year. He is said to have made the bondholders an offer before his departure from the lake this fall.

An unofficial value of $500,000 has been placed on the holdings, including other properties than the immediate surroundings.

Snider Attends Meet Of Forest Rangers To Map Fire Plans

H. I. Snider, head of the forester service in Truckee, was in attendance at a meeting of the Tahoe National Forest rangers last week end. The gathering was devoted to the discussion of various events that occured during the past season.

This session was a preliminary to one which will be held later this month with a larger number of men present who are interested in suppressing the damage done by fires during the summer months. It is planned to have an official from the district office in San Francisco to speak at the annual event.

Irrigation Board Votes to Reject New Boca Annex

Conservation Group Gave Previous Approval To Project

Members of the Truckee-Carson Irrigation district board at Fallon, Nevada, rejected the proposal of the Sierra Pacific Power company for enlarging the capacity of the Boca reservoir at its own expense, by a vote of 4 to 3, it has been reported.

The company plan is to have additional storage capacity of 4,000-acre feet to the up-stream reservoir to cost approximately $100,000.

According to the word received here, the board of directors took the stand that they had no right to approve the supplemental agreement owing to the fact the principal agreement had been approved by the water users at the time when the supplemental agreement was not known to them.

The Washoe County Water Conservation District gave its aproval to the added proposal several weeks ago.

Whether the refusal of the board to accept the power company's proposal will delay the construction of the reservoir remains problematical.

DISTRICT OFFICERS ADDRESS MEETING OF TRUCKEE P.-T. A.

School Filled to Capacity as Leaders Discuss Programs

The Meadow Lake Union high school was filled to capacity Friday evening by an interested group of people who attended a regular meeting of the Truckee Parent-Teachers association when three district officers of the organization from Sacramento spoke to the assembly and instructors of the grammar school were tendered a reception.

"Character Education" was discussed by Mrs. G. W. Fitzgerald. Each speaker gave the audience a clear word picture of their chosen topics.

Community singing, under the direction of Mrs. Lotta Bryant, gave verve to the occasion. Two selections were played by the high school orchestra. Brahm's Lullaby was sung by members of the grammar school Rythm Band, led by Miss Rhiechelt who also played a waltz by the same composer.

At the close of the pleasant session the refreshment committee, including Mrs. R. A. Tonini, chairman, Mrs. H. I. Snider, Mrs. R. Bick, Mrs. Frank Titus and Mrs. E. Pitts served coffee and dessert to those present.

NEW ICE RINK TO BE OPENED HERE ON NOVEMBER 21

Favorable Weather Permits Rush to Complete Project

PLANNING SKATE HOUSE

Outing Club Members to be Given Preference on New Pond

Providing weather conditions permit, skating will be enjoyed on Truckee's new rink on the week end of November 21.

This was assured this week when C. Edmunds, manager of the winter sports activities, reported that the necessary work to get the rink in condition for this season will be completed on November 18. Favorable weather has resulted in the work being rushed to an early conclusion and Truckee will soon have an attraction of which few winter resort centers can boast.

Provision is being made for the erection of skate and warming rooms, as the rink will be uncovered for this season at least. It is proposed, Edmunds said, to flood the area as soon as it is completed and allow sufficient time for the ice to form so that good skating will be assured.

The pond, when completed will be 150 feet in diameter or nearly 500 feet around, providing ample space for a large number of skaters to enjoy the recreation. While the skate supply is somewhat depleted, there being only approximately 75 pairs on hand, it is hoped as the season advances to increase the stock.

Shortly after the rink is ready for use, dates for events will be arranged and a program scheduled for the winter. It is tentatively planned to allow members of the Truckee Outing club special privileges on specified evenings, reserving the week ends and holidays for outside guests. A nominal admission of 25 cents will be charged with the usual 25 cents additional for skates.

Funds to prepare the ice palace so that it can be used this season were taken from the winter sports promotion fund subscribed by the local business people. While the work somewhat depleted the fund, it is hoped to still be able to get additional equipment and make the necessary improvements and repair on the grounds.

REBEKAH LODGE HAS 66TH BIRTHDAY AT LOCAL RECEPTION

The 66th anniversary party of Naomi Lodge No. 2, chapter of the Rebekahs, held in the local Odd Fellows hall Wednesday night was pronounced a complete success by the large group of Rebekahs, Odd Fellows and the guests of the evening.

The large pink and green cake supporting 66 candles was the central attraction of the supper tables and was cut by Mrs. Lotta Bryant who has been a member of the lodge longer than any other member present. The appointments and decorations followed the color scheme for the cake.

Members of the Odd Fellows lodge were hosts to the sister organization and guests including prominent officers from Dutch Flat, Reno and Fallon.

Mrs. Lotta Bryant and Miss Catherine Rossarini were heard in two piano duet selections.

Whist and casino were played at 11 tables, the winners of the high scors being Mrs. Karl Kielhofer and Mr. Bartlett, an out of town visitor, while Mrs. Lavoulette of Hobart Mills and A. J. Anderhalder received the tokens of consolation.

Tonini Improving—

Ben Tonini, who has been confined to his home ill for the past several days is reported much improved and is expected to be back at work soon.

GIVE A THOUGHT TO THE OUTING CLUB

Throughout the state new winter sports clubs are springing up almost monthly, indicating the trend of the recreational world toward this popular outdoor sport. New clubs are being organzied with large memberships, new ski trails are being opened and thousands of dollars are being spent to develop the program in every center near where snow blankets the earth during the winter months.

Truckee, the original home of winter sports in California, and still one of the most popular resorts of that nature, should not and cannot afford to rest on the laurels gathered in the past, as reflected in the dog derby and other championship events, but should and must keep forever after new achievements and honors.

This can be accomplished in one way, and one way only. That is through the development and support of the Truckee Outing Club, which for months now has stood dormant, with only a half-dozen or so members, a completely depleted treasury and none too bright prospects for the future.

The time is now ripe to renew the activities of Truckee's recreation promotion organization. We are sorely in need of revived interest in the club, so that officers and leaders may proceed with the program for the continued upbuilding of the community and keep Truckee provided with the recreational facilities which are being installed and maintained in other areas, where united efforts are being made to draw the winter sport enthusiasts.

No doubt a drive will soon be made to replenish the faded membership roster. Reorganization may be necessary. But above all else the importance of maintaining such a group as the Truckee Outing club should be a paramount thought in the minds of those who desire this community to keep its lead in winter and summer sports.

ARMISTICE DAY

Wednesday was Armistice Day.

At exactly the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month of 1918, it was, that O. D. clad officers, standing in the muddy, war-scarred fields of France beside guns that were raining shells on the fleeing enemy, almost as one man gave the command, "Cease firing!"

It was over. The war to end wars had ended!

Jubilation came even to those war weary men in the trenches. It mounted into a wave of feverish joy that swept around the world. And it echoed again when the boys came marching thiumphantly home. To almost every American, then, it was a full-throated cry of victory for us and for peace.

But was it victory? Not for the mothers and wives and families of the 37,568 young men who had been killed in action, of the 12,942 who had died of their wounds, and of the 182,474 who had come home mained.

Today we know that the World War was not a war to end all wars. We have read of bombs and bullets and bloodshed in Ethiopia, in China, in Spain. And at this very hour Europe is poised again on the brink of another plunge into mass madness.

When the soldiers paraded last Wednesday and the bands played and people cheered, it was a tribute to peace and not war. It was an expression of American determination, at all costs save actual invasion, to have no part in the catastrophy mankind awaits — the Second World War.

24,000,000 DIDN'T VOTE

Most of the post mortems after election make rather dull reading, but one of the perennial "Our man could have won if" complaints from the losing camp, reveals an astonishing and provocative fact. This alibi contends that if everyone qualified to vote had voted, the result would have been different. That could not have been the case so far as the presidental results are concerned, but the actual number of people too immersed in slothful indifferecne to register and cast a vote is astonishing. There are 73,000,000 people 21 years of age or over in the United States. Counting out nine million unnaturalized or illiterates, that leaves 64,000,000 eligible. Yet the nation-wide vote is about 40,000,000.

It is a disturbing fast that so many people do not care enough about the democracy men have died for, to take advantage of their opportunities under it.

NINE MEN AND HISTORY

In the sanctum of the Supreme Court of the United States, where nine elderly, solemn, black-robed gentlemen apply their weighty wisdom to various questions, decisions of historic import are in the process of incubation. Eleven cases involving major New Deal laws are docketed for security during the present term of the court.

Their decisions may determine whether or not an amendment to increase Federal powers is proposed. Their decisions may influence the whole course of governmental philosophy in America.

The important acts in question are: The national labor relations act, the railroad labor act of 1934, the right of the Government to finance municipal power plants, the Wheeler-Rayburn public utility act and the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage act, revamped and repassed after its progenitor had been held unconstitutional.

Politically Speaking

By GEORGE E. HELMER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO. Nov. 12.— (UP)— Attempting to draw conclusions from the results of the election — except the obvious democratic trend in presidental, congressional and state legislative contests — has caused political observers to throw up their hands in disgust.

Take, for example, the defeat of 18 of the 23 special propositions on the ballot.

Gov. Frank F. Merriam said those results indicated the people studied propositions and knew what they and knew what they were voting for. He was delighted with the setbacks given the measures which would have taken money out of the state general fund.

The vote on No. 23, however, did not indicate that everbody read the proposal. More than one-fourth of those who voted on it registered approval despite the widely publicized fact that the whole thing was a mistake that the authors wanted it killed; that it would remove some of the best features of the state railroad commission act.

Two of the closest contests among the more important propositions were on the chain store tax and the tideland oil drilling measure. More money was spent campaigning for and against those.

Publicity pointing out "jokers" in No. 10, the gas tax diversion act, had a decided effect on the result and the proposal was defeated by a wide margin despite the fact nearly all motorists would have ordinarily supported any movement to prevent diversion of gas tax and assure continued improvement of highways.

One of the puzzling results was the defeat of No. 3, the liquor control measure. In view of the criticism directed at the board of equalization and wide support given No. 3 by newspapers and various organizations, observers expected a change — creating an appointive commission and removing administration of liquor from the board of equolization — would be approved.

Instead, however, the voters said "no", emphatically, and the board issued a statement thanking the electorate for expressing faith in the equalization group and prefering to wait until a more popular plan could be devised, probably by the legislature.

Generally, it appeared the voters were reluctant to approve anything that might mean new taxes or increased governmental costs, or any measure with which they were not entirely familiar. There was so much talk of "jokers" being concealed in the wording of the measures that many persons voted "no" on all of them.

Democrats, naturally jubilant over the smashing victory given President Roosevelt in California, also were happy because the democratic landslide was not restricted to the presidental race.

Three Bourbons were added to the state's congressional delegation, making 16 in all, compared with 13 last year. The republicans who survived were those four who captured both major party nominations in the August primary.

Sixteen incumbent congressmen were reelected. Four of the 1937 delegation are new members.

Similarly, democrats gained eight seats in the state senate and nine in the assembly, winning a majority of positions in the lower house of the legislature.

Odd numbered senatorial districts were represented by 18 republicans and two democrats until this election rolled around. Now — unless absentee ballots change the results of two very close cotests — there are 10 republicans and 10 democrats.

Eleven of the 20 senators elected are new, as the result of two republicans and a democrat being defeated in August, three republicans in November, and five republicans retiring.

Twenty-three of the 80 assemblymen who will participate in the legislative session in January are new. And 18 of those new ones are democrats. The party lineup, based on incomplete returns, will be 47 democrats and 33 republicans. Two years ago, there were 42 republicans and 38 democrats.

If the democratic assembymen are able to organize and select a leader acceptable to all the Bourbons, they may have things pretty much their own way during the next session. The senate retained its republican majority, and Governor Merriam is a republican, so partisan developments may enliven legislative activities as much as the EPIC bloc did in 1935.

CAMPAIGN OPENED AGAINST MORE FIRES

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 12.— (UP)— A campaign to prevent a repetition of the disasterous forest fire season of 1936 has been undertaken by a committee representing park agencies and civic organizations.

The initial meeting of the group was called by John H. Covington, acting chief of the state division of parks, to lay a foundation for control of forest fires which caused losses in redwood forests estimated at $12,000,000.

After the organization meeting was held it was decided to reconvene at an early date for the purpose of developing specific preventative plans.

News of September Wedding Revealed to Friends of Tahoe Pair

TAHOE CITY, Nov. 12.— Another agreeable surprise of recent date was the announcement of the secret marriage on September 5 in Carson of Miss Jean McCarthy, attractive telephone operator, formerly stationed at Tallac to Lloyd Shebley of Tahoe.

Shebley's father, the late William H. Shebley, who passed away in Sacramento a year ago this month, was associated with the state bureau of fish culture from which he retired as chief following 51 years of remarkable service. He was known as the father of fish culture in California. His son, following in his father's footsteps, has been in charge of the Tallac hatchery for the past several years.

Mrs. Shebley replaces Miss Agnes Soll of the Tahoe telephone exchange who, following a week's vacation in the south, will be stationed with the company in Sacramento for the winter months.

TAHOE SKI CLUB NAMES OFFICERS; SET MEET DATE

TAHOE CITY, Nov. 12.— The Tahoe Ski club, meeting on Friday night, selected the following officers for the ensuing year:

A. M. Henry, president; Fred Setlee, first vice president; Charles Swanson, second vice president; Miss Mary Pronzato, secretary; Henry D. Worden, treasurer; Ernest Pomin, chief of Ski Hill; A. M. Anderson, Walter Mandeville, Joe Pomin, James Worden and Marie Henry, directors.

Ernest Pomin, outgoing president, was given a rousing vote of appreciation for the conscientious and efficient efforts he has expended in behalf of the club during his term in office.

It was definitely decided that the Tahoe club will hold its one-day meet this season at Ski Hill canyon on February 14. A one-day meet was decided upon in order to eliminate the expense of keeping a long list of out-of-town entrants over night. The meet will include all events with awards to all winners.

At the directors' meeting Monday night, Joe Henry, Ernest Pomin and Charles Swanson were chosen state directors of the club. A concerted effort will be made to augment the depleted treasury in order that the coming ski meet may rate exceptionally successful and enjoyable.

It is unlikely that the Tahoe club will enjoy much patronage from Reno or secure new members from there this year, as in other years, as that city is organizing its own club and has recently completed a new warming house, 40 by 60 feet on the slope of Mt. Rose for the use of the members. It is of native stone contains a double circulating fire place, rest rooms and warming benches. It was financed through a WPA project. A new jump will be built for tournament purposes.

The next Ski Club meeting will be held in the local school auditorium at 8 o'clock, Friday, November 20. On that date entertainment will be furnished guests in the form of cards, dancing and refreshments. A small admission charge will be charged. Delicious refreshments are to be served. Don't forget the date. All are welcome.

CHRIS SOLL EXPIRES AFTER OPERATION IN BAY CITY HOSPITAL

PINE LODGE, Nov. 12.— Mr. and Mrs. Henry Soll motored to San Francisco Friday to attend the funeral of Chris Soll, Mr. Soll's brother who failed to rally from a recent operation in Mills Memorial hospital, passing away on Friday. Interment was in the Cypress Lawn cemetery on Monday. The Henry Solls were the only surviving relatives living in the United States.

Despite the pleasant temperatures, colds, sore throats and mild attacks of flu continue to go the rounds. Among the local folks either on the sick list or just recovering are Mrs. Hulda Nielsen, Mrs. Gertrude Broach Chris Nielsen, Rodney Yeakel, Mr. and Mrs. James Ferguson, Mrs. John Stevens, Mrs. Alma Piersen, Mrs. N. R. Mayfield and Mrs. Charles Swanson.

The grocery store of Bill Johnson at El Campo, Homewood, has been moved back some 18 feet off the highway, on which the building part of it stood in part. A new concrete foundation has been put beneath it and negotations are going on for the leasing of the store to Pete Ceccarelli of Sacramento, who plans to improve the building next spring and possibly install a bar and serve meals. Mr. Johnson will continue to operate his camp grounds.

WEDDING PLANS OF TAHOE COUPLE IS REVEALED AT LAKE

TAHOE CITY, Nov. 12.— Townsfolk and friends of Mrs. Charles Winslow, the former Celeste Planett, will be pleased to learn that she is planning to be married around the holiday time to Ray Hicks, now stationed in Marysville. Mrs. Winslow is at present visiting friends in Truckee. The groom-to-be is employed by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, in whose employ he was in the Tahoe district all summer. Best wishes are extended.

Courage

EVERYONE is agreed that courage is a quality which is essential to his well-being. The term "coward" is considered everywhere to be an opprobrious one, and few are anxious to be considered lacking in bravery. Yet even the bravest men will admit that there have been occasions when courage has well-nigh deserted them.

Christian Science teaches that courage is an essential of Christian warfare; but it also teaches men to place their reliance on something deeper than mere personal bravery, since it is recognized that this can fail when it is most needed. It also draws a clear distinction between mere animal courage and the moral courage which brings peace and calm to the most disturbed situation.

It is a custom, among those about to engage in human warfare, to have recourse to intoxicants in order to stimulate themselves to face its horrors. Criminals cultivate in like manner a spurious courage for their unlawful actions, thereby frequently reducing themselves to a pitiable state, mentally and physically. The courage thus induced is, of course, ephemeral, and leads to the commission of crimes, terrible in their effects on humanity.

Such courage has no connection with true Christian courage. Mary Baker Eddy puts the matter clearly when she says (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, pp. 28, 29): "There is too much animal courage in society and not sufficient moral courage. Christians must take up arms against error at home and abroad. They must grapple with sin in themselves and in others, and continue this warfare until they have finished their course. If they keep the faith, they will have the crown of rejoicing."

Some people may think that the substituting of moral courage for animal courage is very easy. They may think that it is easier to be morally courageous than physically so. Yet if they will consider the facts of history they will find that much of the suffering and human warfare of the ages has been brought about because men have not had the moral courage to defend their inmost convictions as to right and wrong. Nations have been forced into wars to defend their national courage and honor before the world, when moral courage would have shown a far more satisfactory way of meeting the situation.

In the contest between David and Goliath, the giant Philistine showed animal courage, while the courage of David, though expressed in physical courage of the highest kind, found its basis in the understanding whereby he denied the dictatorship of the human mind. "Then said David to the Philistine, Thou comest to me with a sword, and with a spear, and with a shield: but I come to thee in the name of the Lord of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel, whom thou hast defied." (I Samuel 17:45). Armed with this moral courage, this reliance on the power of God, good, David was able to destroy the domination of the Philistine army by slaying their champion by means of his shepherd's sling and Goliath's own sword.

. . . The writer of the book of Proverbs saw something of this need of developing right qualities of thought when he said (14:1), "Every wise woman buildeth her house: but the foolish plucketh it down with her hands."

Courage, then, in the true sense of the word, consists in learning to do right, to love good, and then to take one's stand for the right and good and true, even in the face of persecution and hatred. . . .

Our great Master knew this when he said lovingly to his trembling disciples, about to face the opposition of the heathen world in all its so-called power and splendor (Luke 12:32), "Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom."—The Christian Science Monitor.

This Week At The State Capitol

By MELVIN LORD
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 12.—(UP)—Beginning November 16 California's state government will be operated on a cash basis, according to Ray L. Riley, state controller.

From that date, all obligations will be met with cash instead of individual registered warrants, the cash to be obtained through the sale of large denomination warrants bearing a low rate of interest.

It was estimated the new plan will save approximately $1,000,000 annually, in addition to simplifying the state's financial system.

Riley estimated the general fund deficit would be about $40,000,000 at the end of the biennium, but that it could be absorbed gradually if revenues remain unchanged and budgets are not increased.

So far Gov. Frank F. Merriam has taken no official part in the negotations dealing with the maritime strike in San Francisco.

He did announce, however, that state relief had not been extended strikers, but that he would not permit women and children to starve if the trouble is prolonged.

SEWAGE DISPOSAL FROM CAR TRAILERS OFFERS PROBLEM

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 12.—(UP)—Problems connected with the disposal of sewage from cabin trailers represent one of the outstanding questions to be answered by health authorities at the present time, according to the state department of public health.

"The disposal of sewage from cabin trailers is a new problem," the department explained. "so suddenly has this come about that methods to meet the situation are generally inadequate."

The department asked local health authorities to take immediate cognizance of the situation.

In reply to reports that the state was aiding "a revolution", the governor determined that no individual applications for relief had been received from strikers or their families and that none had been extended.

The state toll bridge authority finally voted in favor of a basic 65-cent toll to charge passenger cars including the driver and four passengers, for crossing the new San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge opening today.

The action was taken after Lt. Gov. George J. Hatfield had made a strong bid for the adoption of a 50-cent toll. Hatfield said he would attempt to have the rate reduced as quickly as possible.

With the defeat of both the liquor proposals it was evident this controversial question would be in the hair of the legislators right from the beginning of the 1937 session.

CONSERVATION TO BE SUBJECT DURING STATE MEET SOON

With facts showing that forest insects are destroying timber growth greater than the combined loss from forest fires and lumbering in California, C. C. Teague of Santa Paula, president of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, will appear before the annual meeting of the State Chamber of Commerce at the Palace hotel in San Francisco on November 19 to demand immediate action to check the pine bark beetle and save the forests and water sheds of California.

Teague who is past president of the state chamber has made studies in northern forests on which fruit growers depend for their supplies of crates and boxes. He will demonstrate to the conference of forestry officials and state chamber of commerce members that immediate action should be taken. Other subjects on the program of the conservation section of the state chamber's two-day annual meeting are: flood control, coordination of government agencies in conservation work, reclaiming lost fishing areas, lake and stream survey by Dr. P. R. Needham of the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries, game management on private lands, and fire losses in the north coast region.

State Forester M. B. Pratt will make a full report to the conservation section on the fire losses during the past year on lands under state protection. S. B. Show, U. S. regional forester, will report on the nation forest service program. H. K. Fox of Fresno will talk on control of predatory animals in the San Joaquin valley regions.

E. W. Murphy, chairman of the state chamber's conservation committee, will preside.

Motor Vehicle Autos Standing up Well At Minimum Cost

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 12.— (UP)—Automobiles are either improving or employes of the state department of motor vehicles are more efficient than ever.

The department announces that it had operated official automobiles for an average of .0227 cents per mile "including original cost, hrade-in credit, all repairs and maintenance."

In presenting the report to Director Ray Ingels, officials explained that operating costs have been reduced nearly one-half in a period covering the last five years.

These figures reveal a saving of approximately $235,000 annually on the basis of milage costs of five years ago.

On June 30, 1936, there were 226 cars operated by the department which traveled 12,239,674 miles over a period of two years, while 464 motorcycles had 13,786,125 miles to their credit.

The department uses 14 makes and various models of automobiles which have an average life of two and one-half years and an average mileage of 80,000.
